The Bridal.

Prepared as a bride adorned for her husband—Revelations, XXI, 2.

The bridal morn is coming when the blue sky weds the earth;

Play up the silver music of the minstrels of mirth!

The nuptial hour advances when the bridegroom will appear

In all the singing sweetness of the morning of the year;

And she he weds stands shining with that soft and April look,

Her hands amid the lilies and her bare feet in the brook!

The glades will send their violets for the bridal altar fair,

The jonquils and the roses will be banked along the stair;

The streams will break their leashes and leap bounding down the vale,

The balmy winds will wander in a sweet and scented gale;

And, oh, the mouth of kissing, when the sunbeam weds the dew,

And all the bridal morning of the green world wakens you!

The bridal morn is breaking through the shadow of the dream;

Last night the icebound river sang its way back to the gleam;

The birds are just down yonder where the live oak forests smile,

To wait the word of wonder on the lips of afterwhile!

The temples are preparing for the services to be

At the bridal of the blue sky with the earth beside the sea!

The sunny hours are flooding to that moment when the hill

At footsteps of the maidens to its central heart will thrill,

And violets will happen, and the quaint arbutus bloom

Will peep along the woodpaths from its cloistral sleep of gloom;

The trumpets will be sounding and the bird and beast will fly

To hold the altar candles for the earth that weds the sky!

The bridal morn is coming—all the feeling hidden deep

Sends down the choric message to the mysteries of sleep;

The bride is there preparing, and the groom is putting on

The magic of the meadows like a garment of the dawn;

The sea is playing marches and some fairy moment, lo,

Through gates of dream Miss April will come dancing o'er the snow!

ENTERTAINMENT

The Charlesville Band is holding an entertainment in the P. O. S. of A. Hall, Charlesville on April 17, 1920 at 8 o'clock P. M.

The program for the evening will consist of dialogues, readings, trio and band selections, by P. O. S. of A. Band.

It is to be observed that the Lodge plan for "Americanizing" the treaty is more or less satisfactory to all the elements which sympathized with Germany before and during the war.

The prettiest girls are vain. They are always trying to improve on God's handiwork by adding powder, which is rubbed off during the night.

MARRIAGE LICENSES

Earl Smith of Bedford Co., and Mary Welch, of Fulton Co.

John P. Speicher, of Somerset, and Binnie P. Koozitz, of Mann's Choice.

David Northcraft, and Harriet Smith, of Southampton Twp.

First Americans kept worrying over unpreparedness for war; now they are worrying about unpreparedness for peace.

Some sort of league will be necessary pretty soon to prevent war between Hi Johnson and Gen. Wood. They are becoming irreconcilable.

When a man declares his cellar is flooded this spring don't assume the corks have come out.

LARGE HOTEL CHANGES HANDS

The Sulphur Springs Hotel, at Sulphur Springs, this county, conducted for many years by the Colvin family with Michael S. Colvin as manager, has been sold by the McVey Company to Dr. W. W. Thompson of Pittsford, Pa. It is understood, as a sanitarium, it is understood, as a famous for its fine, medicinal water and is visited annually by many people from all sections of the state, as well as nearby states. There are over 125 acres of ground and the hotel building is large and comfortably furnished. The consideration was $50,000. It is understood that Mr. Colvin and his sisters will reside in Bedford.

WILLIAM S. IKES

William S. Ikes after an illness of over a week passed away at his late home at Reynoldsdale, Wednesday April 7th at 9 A. M. aged 58 years 5 months and 25 days. Mr. Ikes was born near Weyant, this county, where he spent the early part of his life. In 1887 he was united in marriage to Bertha Griffith, who survives him. To this union were born six children three of whom preceded him in death and the following living: Mrs. John Hammers of this place and Chester and Josephine at home.

In 1900 Mr. Ikes moved to this place and four years later entered the mercantile business which he followed until the time of his death. He was a life long member of the Methodist church. The funeral services were conducted Friday April 11th by Rev. Benson assisted by Rev. Middleworth, interment made in the Lutheran Cemetery at St. Clairsville. Mr. Ikes will be greatly missed in the home and in the community in which he lived.

MRS. MARY ADAMS

The body of Mrs. May Adams, who died in a Pittsburgh Hospital on Wednesday, was brought to this place Monday and interment made in the Bedford cemetery. Deceased was aged about 56 years and was a daughter of the late David Ernest of this place; she was married to Charles Adams and for a number of years resided here. Surviving are three children: Charles and Florence Adams, of Fairmont, W. Va., and John Adams of Johnstown, as well as several brothers and sisters.

ABRAHAM BARNHART

One of Bedford's oldest citizens, Abraham Barnhart, passed away Sunday morning at the Leader home on Simpson street, where he had resided for some time, after an illness of but a few days. Deceased was born at Claysburg, 84 years ago and came to this county in his young days, following the trade of carpenter. His wife, who was Miss Jane Gephart, of this place, preceded him in death about a year ago. Rev. J. A. Eyer of the Reformed church of which he was a member, had charge of the funeral services which were held at the Leader residence Monday afternoon. Interment at this place.

WILLIAM G. BORTZ

William G. Bortz, aged 51 years died in a Pittsburgh Hospital Monday morning. He was born and reared in Cumberland Valley, where he lived up until a year ago, when he sold his farm at that place and purchased another at Tionesta, Pa., the name of which was "Dutch Hill Farm." Mr. Bortz was well known in Bedford as well as in Cumberland Valley. He had hosts of acquaintances in this section of the county who are greatly grieved to hear of his death.

He was a son of Captain Martin and Sallie Bortz. Besides his wife Ida he is survived by seven children, Mary, Isabelle, Dorothy, Alvin, Rose, Stambert and George. The funeral was held from the Centerville Methodist Episcopal Church Tuesday noon.

THE LADY-SHOPPER'S PRECIOUS PURSE

She screamed in terror when her purse was snatched from out her jeweled hand, and hurled a modest semicourse toward the fleeing bold brigand. And when the purser caught the thief she seized the purse with anxious air and breathed a sigh of sweet relief to find her treasures were all there.

A penciled note
Her fellow wrote,
A sugar plum
A wad of gum
A hairpin bent
A copper cent,
A button hook
With broken crook,
A safety-pin
A curling tin,
A powdered rag,
A satchet bag.

These were the treasures which she bore around with her from store to store.

While on her shopping tour to see the many pretty things which she would love to buy if she but had the cash, and with a smile so glad it almost made the copper sneeze.

She thanked him and with sprightly ease tripped on to seek another store.

Or two where she could shop some more—Honey.

When a man declares his cellar is flooded this spring don't assume the corks have come out.

REPORT OF COMMON SCHOOL EXAMINATIONS

On April 1, 2 and 3, 1920, examinations for common school graduation and for entrance to high school were held in various sections of the county. PRESIDENT SURE TO VETO PEACE RESOLUTION

The peace resolution which was recently passed by the House of Representatives by a vote of 242 to 150, now goes to the Senate where Democratic leaders have announced that they will use every parliamentary means to prevent favorable action. In the event of its ultimate passage by the Senate, the Democrats have been advised that Wilson will veto it.

The action of the House is unprecedented in the history of the country, and there is still some question as to its constitutionality. The Democrats with a few exceptions rejected the measure.

SLOW GROWTH SAFEST

In our zeal for civic improvement and municipal development we may be in danger of trying to solve too many problems at once and starting too many projects without waiting to accomplish any one thing, and it is well at the beginning to take a comprehensive survey of the field so that we may have in mind all that is needed to make our city bigger and better. Just now we seem to be finding more needs of this sort than perhaps many of us suspected. Because of their multitude we are not likely to secure them all immediately or possibly some of them for a long time, but they are well worth striving for. We must not be discouraged if we do not see these worthy movements for municipal progress and benefit proceed as rapidly or as far as we would like, but we must be content to advance as slowly as may be necessary in order to secure the best of what we seek and in the best form. The Gazette believes it is far better to develop gradually but in a sound and healthy manner than to grow so fast as to become weak and ineffective.

COGAN — SARVER

On Thursday afternoon, April 1st, Rev. J. Albert Eyer united in marriage at St. John's Reformed parsonage, Mr. J. D. Cogan of Hopewell and Miss Laura J. Sarver of Homestead, Pa. The beautiful ring ceremony of the Reformed church was used.

SPEICHER — KOONTZ

On Wednesday morning April 14th Mr. John Speicher of Rockwood, Pa. was joined in holy wedlock with Miss Binnie P. Koontz, of Mann's Choice. The ceremony was performed at the parsonage of St. John's Reformed church, Rev. J. Albert Eyer officiating.

LABOR'S STANDPOINT AFFECT CAMPAIGNS

OF PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATES—QUESTIONNAIRES USED TO DETERMINE CANDIDATES STAND ON LABOR MATTERS.

Organized labor view on industrial problems likely to enter into the coming political campaign are presented in detail in reply to a questionnaire, submitted by the advisory committee on policies and platform of the Republican national committee. The reply made public today at American Federation of Labor Headquarters is signed by Samuel Gompers, Matthew Wool and Frank Morrison, as members of the platform committee of the national non-partisan campaign of the federation.

Acceptance of the principles enunciated in the reply was regarded by political observers as determining organized labor support of candidates in the November election. These principles included:

Acceptance of the eight hour day with the six day week and Saturday half holiday.

Recognition of the American Wage earner's right to organize in accordance with their own judgment.

Continued exemption of labor organizations from anti-trust laws.

Recognition of the right of employees to strike.

Abandonment of the use of injunctions in labor disputes.

Payments of wages as to render payment of old age and retirement benefits unnecessary.

Minimum age of sixteen years for employment of children.

RUMORS THAT PRESIDENT HAS HAD RELAPSE AGAIN

Persistent rumors that the President has had a relapse still continue to go the rounds in official Washington although nothing can be had from the White House concerning his condition. Certainly there has been a decided change around the White House. The daily automobile rides have been discontinued and the cabinet has not had an official meeting for months, and this in spite of much pressing business which the cabinet members would like to get off their minds.

The suspension of the automobile rides together with only fragmentary statements concerning the President's health have caused a great deal of speculation. It is true the President is very thin, but the warm afternoon sun on the White House grounds had given him a ruddy color which his friends had taken much faith in. Undoubtedly the ordeal of having so many snap shots taken of him did not do him any good and when he was on the street people stared at him curiously.

BIRDS AS EQUALIZERS

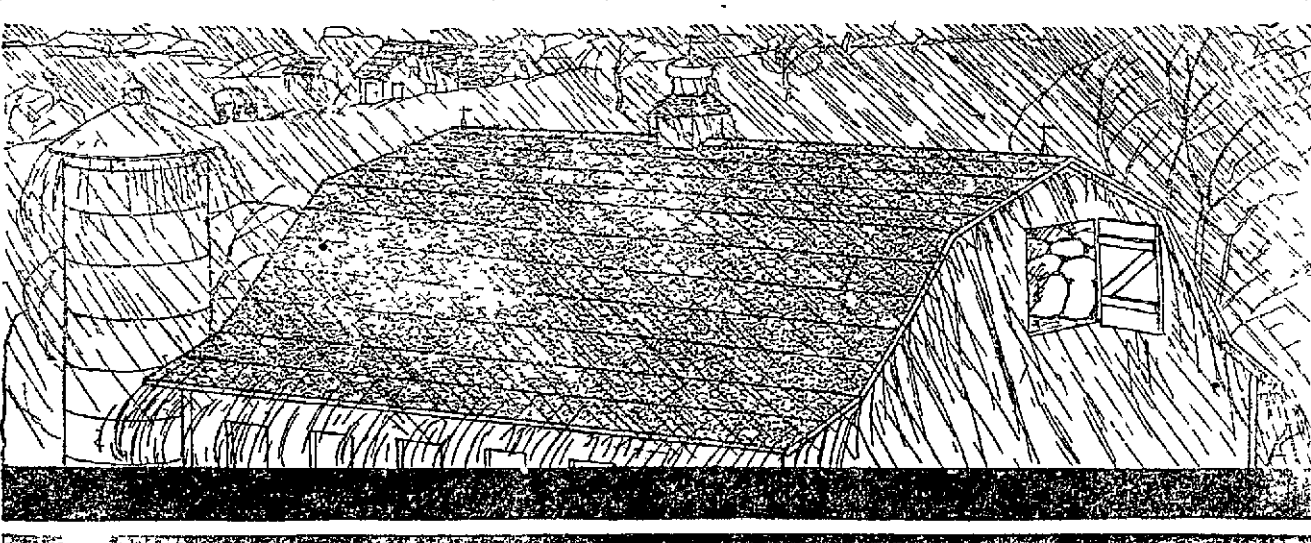

Scientists agree that birds are the great equalizers between insect life and vegetation. All young birds while in the nest are known to consume daily at least their own weight in insect life, which means that if in Pennsylvania we have an average of but one nest of robins to the acre with 28,800,000 acres in the State, each nest containing four young birds, each bird weighing but one ounce, or only four ounces of young robins to the acre, it will require 3600 tons of insects to feed

MADE SUCCESS OF POTATOES

At Westchester in New York State there is a new name for potatoes. There they are known as "Murrays." Murphy has been the name for spuds ever since the first Irishman began digging them, but from now on they will be known as "Murrays." At least, in this exclusive suburban community.

About two years ago Elizabeth Murray went to West Chester and bought a home. All of her life Miss Murray has been headlining in vaudeville and playing in musical comedy, and she determined some day to have a home, a "comfy house" in the middle of a great big plot of ground and so when a real estate agent came to her he did not even have to resort to silver-tongued oratory to make the sale, so Elizabeth Murray has a home.

No sooner had she taken possession than along came the necessity for war gardens. Miss Murray had her entire lawn, rose bed and everything plowed up and what else should an Irish woman do but plant potatoes, so the entire place was planted in potatoes, and though it may sound strange, even incredible the potatoes grew—grew in abundance. Her plot yielded more potatoes to the square yard than any other potato plot in that particular district had ever done. The farmers looked upon her with envy and the social colony refused to have other kind of potatoes on their table but these grown by Miss Murray. It was quite the thing at dinner to say, "These are Murray potatoes," and so after a while "potatoes" would be dropped altogether and they would say "These are Murrays."

Miss Murray has not let her farming interfere with her theatricals. She has a man who looks after her potatoes, and this farm, which was started merely as a step in the conservation of food, has become a decidedly profitable business.

Wasting Time.

If time be of all things the most precious, wasting time must be, as Poor Richard says, the greatest prodigality; since, as he elsewhere tells us, lost time is never found again; and what we call time enough, always proves little enough. Let us, then, be up and doing, and doing to the purpose; so by diligence shall we do more with less perplexity. Sloth makes all things difficult, but industry all easy; and he that sloth late must not all day and shall scarce overtake his business at night; while laziness travels so slowly that poverty soon overtakes him. Drive thy business, let not that drive thee; and early to bed and early to rise makes a man healthy, wealthy and wise.—Benjamin Franklin.

FRUIT CROP PROSPECTS.

All over Bedford County a good fruit crop is indicated. The glad tidings come from various sources but one does well to hold his enthusiasm in check. The reports go no further than to say that a good fruit crop is indicated. There are several months between indication and fruition. The buds and blossoms may promise well, and yet not keep their promise. The world will be grateful to the peach trees, the cherry trees and the apple trees, the strawberry vines and the blackberry bushes if they should blossom freely and bear a fruit for every blossom. This would no doubt be asking too much, but if the trees and bushes have at heart the interest of the men who planted them and brought them up, and the women who preserve their fruit, they will do their best.

While we should not cheer too loudly at these early reports of a good crop, we should not too quickly yield to sorrow should contrary reports come in.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish in this manner to express our thanks to our friends and neighbors for their many acts of kindness during the sickness and death of our wife and mother. Also for the beautiful floral tribute and the use of their cars at the funeral.

Sportsmen Solely Responsible for Bird Protection

While the agricultural interests of the Commonwealth have at all times derived by far the greatest benefit from the protection of our birds it is strange to note that the men who are frequently looked upon as destroyers, the sportsmen of the State, are the people who are responsible for our laws giving adequate protection to birds in Pennsylvania, and are also responsible for the Federal law protecting our birds in Pennsylvania, and are also responsible for the Federal law protecting our birds while migrating through other States. Above all, the sportsmen of the State have since 1915 been paying the entire cost of enforcing the laws protecting wild birds in Pennsylvania as every cent used by the Game Commission for this purpose comes from revenue supplied by the sportsmen through the Resident Hunter's License. Not one penny is appropriated to the use of this Department from general taxation for any purpose regardless of the fact that we put forth as much effort to protect song and insectivorous birds as we do to protect and increase game birds and animals.

In view of these facts I cannot understand why the land owners of the State, who do not contribute anything to the protection of the birds that make their crops possible unless they hunt where a license is required are frequently antagonistic to sportsmen and post all their lands against hunting instead of inviting their real friends, the sportsmen to enjoy the privilege of their lands. It is true that all men who hunt are not sportsmen, but practically all of them are bighearted, considerate fellows and the entire fraternity should not be condemned because here and there a thoughtless hunter does something which all good sportsmen deplore and are trying to eradicate. Land owners, think this over between now and fall and see if you and the sportsmen of the State can not understand each other more thoroughly.

Are you interested in helping us protect the birds this spring and summer? If you are a resident of Pennsylvania you should certainly be and are urged to "put your shoulder to the wheel and push" to the limit!

Keep Track of Expenses.

It's a good thing to keep right account of the expenditures. Some business men have a cost account for every line of the business. This avoids that consuming, non-responsible gulf called general expense or sundries. It makes every head of department responsible for every penny used. It's not tightness, it's just business. And when you know that every item is down for accounting you are not likely to be careless in your expenditures. When you take the time to look over expenses carefully before you make them, fewer entries will be made. It's the unwashed urge that puts the drain on the family purse.—Exchange.

Certificates of Progressiveness

The Certificates of Deposit of this Bank do not merely certify that a specified sum is deposited in our care.

They testify also to the discrimination and progressiveness of the individual who holds them; to his appreciation of a sound investment incorporating the features of safety, assured income and marketability.

The Ebensburg Horseshoe Club is now getting ready for the opening season and the members are engaged in polishing up the horse shoes. All rules have been agreed upon and all questions settled except the number of hours per day for pitching. Last year they pitched from sun up till sun down, but a majority of the members feel that things should be adjusted to a more businesslike basis and a day of something like eight or ten hours established, and then should the games be extended beyond the specified hours it will be on overtime. It has also been suggested that an effort be made, for the good of the town and for the encouragement of the Club, to get a Fiddling Band to play say one day each week free of charge for the entertainment of the spectators and horseshoe pitchers.

THE TREATY AND THE RESOLUTION

All citizens notice that the peace resolution has divided the two parties in the House as the peace treaty divided them in the Senate. There were republicans for, republicans against; democrats for, democrats against. Only two republicans voted against the resolution, while twenty two democrats voted for it. Still, there was division in both parties, small as it was.

The debate was decidedly spirited and interesting and held in the presence of crowded galleries. It might have been protracted except that the rules of the House permitted cloture, and the majority leaders thought that cloture was desirable and applied it.

The resolution is expected to pass the Senate, though how speedily is a matter of speculation. What the President will do when the resolution reaches him is likewise a matter for speculation, though the weight of opinion is that he will veto it. If he does, then will come the real test. And if Congress fails to override the veto, the whole question, treaty and resolution and all will enter into the confabulations at Chicago and San Francisco, and later into the presidential campaign.

The hope at the outset was to keep the peace treaty out of politics, and opinion prevailed that the thing could be done. But the attempt failed. It would be useless to deny that the treaty is very much in politics, now and getting in deeper as time goes on.

The lenten season has arrived which means abstinence for many, but the high cost of living has already accustomed them to it.

Why Song and Insectivorous Birds Are Protected.

Our beneficial song and insectivorous birds are protected chiefly for their invaluable life-work, although their cheery song and graceful flight add many pleasant hours to the life of anyone who will take an interest in the great out-of-doors. Scientists agree that if insect life were not curbed through various agencies the earth would become void of all vegetation and would not be inhabitable by men in a very limited number of years, that there are more than a million species of insects with an innumerable host to each species. Authorities agree that insects annually destroy at least ten per cent of the crops raised in the United States. This means that last year the havoc wrought by insects in the United States alone amounted to more than $1,565,000,000 because the total value of crops harvested, according to figures supplied by the United States Department of Agriculture, amounted to more than $14,920,000,000. This loss was in addition to the enormous sum of money and time expended in an effort to combat the ravages of insects.

Good Criticism.

Theodore Dreiser is a novelist of repute, but his novels are apt to be very long—700 or 800 pages, it is said. "There are somnolence in stones," Mr. Dreiser said. "Greenwich Village is a city of the dead." "The city of the dead" is a city of the dead. "The city of the dead" is a city of the dead. "The city of the dead" is a city of the dead.

Most things improve with age. Even the fellow who knows it all has a lot to learn.

Ant Eater's Convenience.

South America can boast no more remarkable zoological product than the "great ant eater." This interesting mammal has powerful front claws for tearing open anthills and decayed logs, a tongue that is a foot in length, and a long, bushy tail which, according to native observers, is used "to sweep up the ants." In reality the tail is not employed for any such purpose. It serves for something quite different, as one may see when the animal lies down. Then the hairs of the tail fall both ways over its body in such a manner as to form a sort of roof thatch, shedding rain and keeping the owner dry in stormy weather.

Felt Neglected.

Little Eva was invited out to dinner with her father and mother. Before starting, her parents made her understand that she must not speak unless spoken to. All went well at first, but after some time, no notice being taken of her, Eva began to get uneasy. Finally, the hostess, seeing that something was wrong, asked her what she would like next. "I would like to have you begin to ask me questions!" was the polite reply.

"Gosh! How my back aches!"

After Grip, "flu" or colds, the kidneys and bladder are often affected—called nephritis, or inflammation of kidneys. This is the red flag of danger—better be wise and check the further progress of kidney disease by obtaining that wonderful discovery of Dr. Pierce's, known as Anuric (anti-uric-acid), because it expels the uric acid poison from the body and removes those pains, such as backache, rheumatism in muscles and joints.

Naturally when the kidneys are deranged the blood is filled with poisonous waste matter, which settles in the feet, ankles and wrists; or under the eyes in bag-like formations.

Dr. Pierce's Anuric is many times more potent than lithia and often eliminates uric acid as hot tea melts sugar.

MILLERSBURG, PA.—"First I had grip, then pneumonia, then kidney and bladder trouble. Kidney excretion was high colored. I got sick on November 12th, and was laid up until February 18th, when I began to use the Anuric Tablets. I told my doctor, and he said, 'That's all right, keep on with them,' so I did. I am now perfectly well and work hard."

Knights of the Garter.
The Knights of the Garter is the oldest and most envied of all British orders. This order is stated to have been founded somewhere between June 24 and August 6, 1348, by that fearless and chivalrous monarch, Edward III. Some time before that date Edward went a considerable way toward founding an Order of the Round Table in commemoration of King Arthur. A round table, some 200 feet in diameter, was constructed at Windsor, and here the knights were entertained at the king's expense. By so doing Edward gathered around him a host of adventure-loving spirits, who afterward greatly facilitated his scheme for a war in France.

How would YOU like a raise like this?

—and for 34 Years Work

THAT is the kind of increase in salary the minister has received. His living expenses have risen just as fast and as far as yours.

But he is paid on the average just 52 cents more per church member than he was paid 34 years ago.

The Minister Never Fails You

Every officer of the Government with a war message to deliver appealed to the ministers first of all.

But 80% of the ministers receive less income than government economists figure as a minimum for the support of an average family.

When hospitals need money they enlist the support of the ministers—and receive it.

But when sickness visits the minister or the members of his family they must be treated in a charity ward. His pay is less than a day laborer's.

8 out of every 10 ministers receive less than $20 a week—about half the pay of a mechanic.

We Pay Him Half the Wages of a Mechanic

And of these pitifully inadequate salaries, how much do you contribute? Nothing if you are outside the church; an average of less than 3c a day if you are a church member.

All of us share in the benefits of Christian ministers to the community. They marry us; bury us; baptize our children; visit us when we are sick. In their hands is the spiritual training of the youth.

We Are All Profiteers at Their Expense

Part of the Interchurch World program is this—a living wage for every minister of Jesus Christ; an efficient plant, and a chance to do a big man's job.

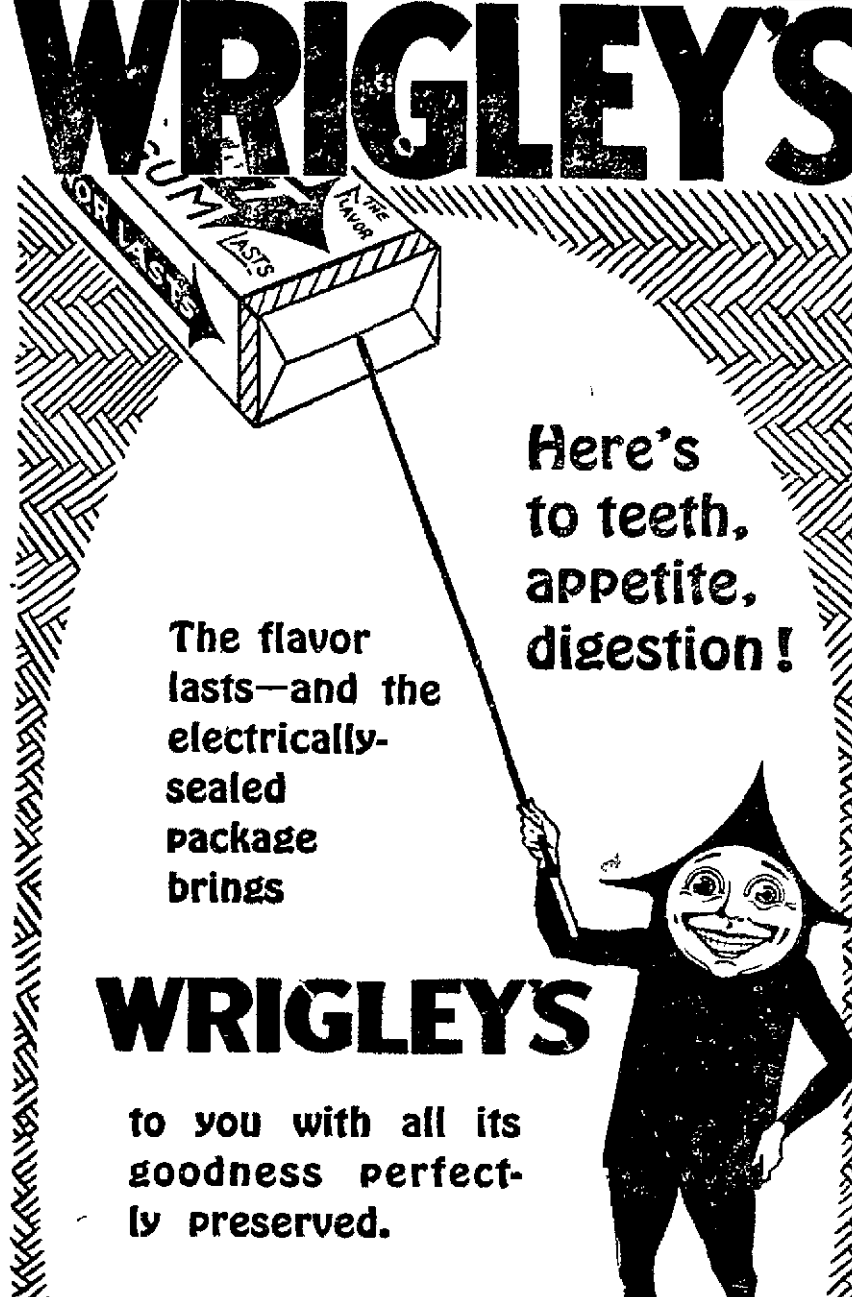

If you want better preachers, help to pay the preachers better. It's the best investment for your community—and for your children—that you can ever make.

The Silver Lining.

Life had become very hard for Mrs. Slopion through the thriftless habits of her husband. They had to move to a tiny, two roomed house, and the poor woman even had to go out to work.

But she didn't fret; she wasn't that kind. She always put a bold face on things.

"You must feel pretty miserable in this poky place, after the houses you're used to," said a neighbor sympathetically.

"Well, I'm quite happy here," reported Mrs. Slopion brightly. "In fact, I'm happier here than I've been for years. You see, my husband can't throw me down the cellar stairs, like he often used to, because we haven't any."

Her station didn't make her miserable.

IRISH PICKETS SHIFT FIELD.

Following the arrest of the women pickets who did duty in front of the British embassy, the field of operations was shifted to the State Department building. Quiet reigned as the two pretty young ladies walked back and forth carrying their banners reading: "Patriots of freedom, champions of liberty, your cause is identified with mine." George Washington, Policewomen and detectives were at hand but only to prevent disorder in case of an attempt to destroy the banners.

In the case of the British embassy the pickets were arrested by authority of an old law which guarantees protection to foreign embassies, so the pickets transferred their operations.

One incident of particular interest in the State Department picketing was the fact that the pickets did the stunt in front of the wrong end of the building where they were not in the view of the Secretary of State. This they did not know until they returned to their headquarters.

NEEDS $420,000,000 TO SETTLE RAIL AFFAIRS

Director General Hines appearing before the House appropriations committee, urged the passage of an appropriation of $420,000,000 to close up the Federal control of the railroads. He stated that the money is needed to pay railroad obligations of the government.
